For stronger antioxidant support

Phenomenal synergy of antioxidants

Taste Life!

Home to colorful macaws and lush palm fronds, the Brazilian rainforest teems with life. Yet the nutritional secret of the Amazon lies deep beneath the forest's mossy floor in its fertile, untapped soil. The wholesome fruits grown in this soil, inspired 4Life Founder and Chairman of the Board David Lisonbee to consider an amazing wellness partnership with the nutritional boost of nature's strongest energy fruits.

Portuguese for River of Life, RioVida™ is a river of flowing energy, featuring the vitality and the antioxidant punch of pomegranates, blueberries, elderberries, grapes, and apples.

- Cardiovascular system support
- Timely, healthy cellular renewal
- Immune system support

Antioxidants are nature's way of rebuilding and restoring molecular health. By bonding with free radicals, the natural by-products of oxygen, sunlight, and other environmental conditions, antioxidants promote balance and molecular regeneration to the body.

Technical Points

- Austrian endocrinologist Dr. Sepp Porta tested the influence of elderberries in promoting healthy stress levels. Dr. Porta found that a ten-day concentrated dose of elderberries was effective in helping the body deal with stress.
- Free radicals are caused by oxidation and result naturally from sunlight and exposure to oxygen in the air. Once formed, they can damage both DNA and cell integrity. For this reason, free radicals can interfere with good health and promote aging.
