A Message from our Founders

Power of Together

We were created for connection; it's at our core. Without connection, there is a void that needs to be filled with something, and therein lies the problem. Many of us try to fill that void with technology. Remember that technology is a useful tool, but it can never be a substitute for meaningful human connection.

To truly connect, we may need to disconnect from some things first. Globally, people average almost seven hours of screen time per day. Daily screen time has increased drastically since 2013. You'd think with this increased screen time, we would form even more connections, and not just with the people around us, but with the world in general. Unfortunately, this does not seem to be the case.

Perhaps we need to disconnect in order to connect. Let's get back to building genuine human connections. Let's rethink what it means to connect with each other, make new connections, and strengthen existing ones.

That is why we love 4Life events like this one. These events allow us to be with like-minded people who share the same goals and vision. Our 4Life pillars are Science, Success, Service, and Satisfaction, and they have helped us in the past 25 years to share the 4Life opportunity around the world and become leaders in the industry.

Congratulations to our 4Life Philippine leaders. Thank you for 17 years of success in the Philippines!

We look forward to seeing you at our next international convention in Salt Lake City, Utah in April 2024!

Best wishes,

A Message from our President and CEO

We all want to belong, which drives us to look for connection. Our connections help us grow, teach us how to love, and help us improve.

4Life is built on connection. 4Life's mantra is Together, Building People, and we do that through our core values of Science, Success, Service, and Satisfaction. These values can help us stay constant in an ever-changing world. They help us connect, build bridges, and create a community of like-minded individuals with similar goals.

Let's send a strong, positive signal to the world and be an example of connection as we Do Life Differently. Here at 4Life, we are your partner in your quest to Do Life Differently. We have been in business for 25 years, and we have offices in over 25 countries and products in over 90 countries.

Our products are substantiated and patented, and they have something no other products have . . . 4Life Transfer Factor®. Last October, we shared a clinical study showing that 4Life Transfer Factor activates the immune system within two hours!<sup>1</sup>

We also have so many exciting promotions to help your team grow, and in turn, help you stay on track to reach your goals. There has never been a better time to create momentum and stay in step with David Lisonbee's vision of bringing 4Life Transfer Factor to 3 million new homes.

Congratulations to our 4Life Philippine leaders for contributing to one of the strongest 4Life markets. We are confident that these first 17 years in the Philippines are just the beginning. The best is yet to come for our 4Life Philippine team.

Warm Wishes,

Danny Lee

A Message from our General Manager

We have entered a new era in the business landscape, and to succeed in this everchanging environment, adapting is essential. But how do you follow your vision in a rapidly changing world? How do you keep your vision the same when so much is changing? At 4Life, we stay connected to our vision through our values: the four pillars that define us as a company: Science, Success, Service, and Satisfaction.

4Life has never wavered in its connection and dedication to science. Our connection to science is evident in our ongoing commitment to conducting clinical studies and using advanced scientific tools to substantiate our products. In fact, a clinical study launched last October shows that 4Life Transfer Factor activates the immune system within two hours!<sup>1</sup> When it comes to immune system science, 4Life is cutting edge.

4Life's connection to our Affiliates' success can be seen through the billions of dollars we have paid out in commissions over the years. From day one, 4Life Philippines has always been early in paying our commissions. In fact, technology has allowed us to pay our Affiliates daily! We also provide programs and events to support the growth of our partners and celebrate their success as we recently did in our National Convention in June 2023. We value leadership, and we are not just cheerleaders; we are active participants in our Affiliates' quest to Do Life Differently.

Our connection to service is deeply rooted in the heart of our co-founder Bianca Lisonbee. She began Foundation 4Life 17 years ago with a vision to break the cycle of poverty and help empower vulnerable children around the world. Her passion for service has touched the entire 4Life family. You are part of Foundation 4Life's service because a portion of every product purchase is donated to service projects that serve the most vulnerable population—children.

Finally, our connection to satisfaction has never been stronger. 4Life continues to innovate and search for ways to ensure we are the best partners for our hardworking Affiliates. We put satisfaction first in everything we do: the continuous innovation of the 4Life app, MyShop launch, free and efficient shipping, introduction of new payment options, and Brand Ambassador program, not to mention the expansion of our manufacturing facility in Utah, while continuing to be a debt free company after 25 years of being in business around the world. These are just some of the ways we keep excellence in customer and Affiliate satisfaction at the top of our priority list.

After 17 years, we are still dedicated to the success of our Affiliates! And at the heart of all this success is the people. 4Life means being with like-minded individuals who support your aspirations, cheer you on when you succeed, and help you get up when you fall. Being with people who share your values and vision is what truly makes the 4Life community worthy of being your chosen family.

Warm Wishes,

Eileen Tan-Dario

New Bronze

Nycolei Ann Marquez
Nueva Ecija

As a young mother, I saw education as my only path to provide security and pride for my family. Years of perseverance passed, and I became a registered nurse and a licensed teacher. I was planning to work abroad, but the thought of leaving my son was unbearable. Instead, I had several online jobs.

I didn't fully understand what the 4Life opportunity was, but when my family tried the products and began to experience remarkable results, I started to wonder, "What about 4Life makes people stay?"

I began to open my mind, listen, and really consider 4Life as a viable option. I realized that juggling two jobs, struggling without saving money, and, worst of all, not having time with my son, was not worth it. I needed a gamechanger, and that gamechanger was 4Life!

Despite challenges like lack of funds, no business experience, a very small network of connections, and a lot of dream crushers, I still pursued 4Life.

To my surprise, the business flourished amid the pandemic. I hit my six-digit income as a Presidential and qualified for the Great Escape Trip, Korean Convention, and Diamond Holiday. My team was on fire, and they also qualified for the Go Next Level bonus and other 4Life promotions.

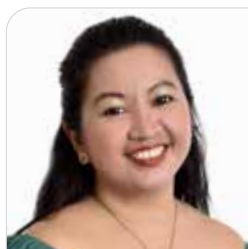

Thanks to 4Life, my family and I moved from a 20 sq m studio-type room we rented for seven years to our very own two-story house. In March 2023, I experienced a 5-star vacation in Da Nang, Vietnam with my husband and team. Most importantly, 4Life granted me the priceless luxury of spending quality time with my family.

The online system of 4Life made it simpler for us to share our story and establish meaningful connections with our prospects. Now, my team is still growing, built on trust and empowering each other's potential. As a new Bronze, I know this is just the beginning of Doing Life Differently!

Connect to Service

Service is one of 4Life's pillars and is part of what 4Life is as a company. 4Life Philippines joins Affiliates from all over the world in strengthening our commitment to Service.

The fundraising activity of 4Life Philippines culminated in a Foundation 4Life activity at Unang Hakbang Foundation. The charitable foundation helps school-age children, particularly from 6 to 9 years old, from marginalized communities within the city, to transition to the formal school system.

During the activity, a total of 50 children were treated to an afternoon party with fun games exciting giveaways, and food. Selected leaders were able to take part in this service activity, which was made even more memorable by the participation of Platinum Elites Jeff and Michelle Altgilbers, Gold Elite Olenia Sullivan, and Director of Foundation 4Life, Jenna Lisonbee.

"We are able to meet with these children, to bring a little bit of hope and sunshine to them. Let them know that their dreams are worth fighting for."

Bianca Lisonbee:

25 Years of Inspiring Affiliates and Women Everywhere

Interview by Calvin Jolley,
Vice President of Corporate Communications

Bianca, born Bianca Palmieri, arrived in this world on an ocean liner while her parents were emigrating from Italy to America. Her passport lists her place of birth as "At Sea."

"You can imagine the strange looks I get while going through Customs and Immigration when I travel. Reactions range from outright laughter to suspicious looks. The responses make me wonder if officials think I might be some sort of mermaid in disguise!" said Bianca.

At the captain's request, Bianca was named after his ship, the Conte Bianca Mano.

Bianca's origin story provides never-ending inspiration to Affiliates and customers around the world.

Her passion for people and service inspired the creation of Foundation 4Life—4Life's non-profit that supports people and seeks to Break the Cycle of Poverty in over 25 countries.

We sat down with Bianca to talk about her journey as a 4Life founder and what it means to be a woman in this industry.

Q. What is your favorite quote?

A. I love this quote from Viktor Frankl, who was a prisoner in a Nazi Concentration Camp during World War II. "Everything can be taken from a person but one thing: the last of the human freedoms—to choose one's attitude in any given set of circumstances."

I love this quote because it helps me remember to not just react to what life throws at me, but to remember I can choose how I will respond to the people around me and the challenges I face.

Going along with that is this great quote by Voltaire: "The most important decision you make is to be in a good mood."

Q. Careers are full of unexpected people, places, events, and decisions to be made. What unexpected things have you encountered in network marketing, and how did these things change you, redirect you, or inspire you?

A. One thing that has been a really pleasant surprise is the level of gratitude we have felt from our Affiliates. It is humbling to see how grateful they are that we started 4Life and to see that it has blessed their lives in so many ways. This makes us want to continue to bring our very best efforts to this company so we can continue to bless their lives.

My advice to women is to be yourself. Who you are is your greatest asset.

Q. What's the most significant challenge/obstacle you've overcome as a female founder/executive?

A. Because I have shared the role of founder with my husband, David, from the very beginning, I imagine that my challenges as a female in this industry would not be the same as that of a woman who has shouldered that role alone. But in my experience interacting with women who have done just that, I think it's important for us to have a passion for what we are doing. That passion breeds a level of confidence that others are drawn to, regardless of gender or anything else. Nothing can stop an enthusiastic woman who believes in what she is doing!

Q. How has your journey differed from what you originally envisioned?

A. To be honest, in those early days, it was hard to envision anything beyond making payroll! We just knew we had an amazing product that we wanted to share with as many people as possible. Some days, that was only one person, but that one person mattered to us then and still does today, even though that one person has now grown into thousands and tens of thousands and hundreds of thousands of people.

Q. If you could give yourself advice at the beginning of your career based on your experiences up until now, what would it be? What advice would you give women entering the channel from both a corporate and field level?

A. My advice to women is to be yourself. Who you are is your greatest asset. We don't need to try and be like our male peers, although we should be open to learning from the great examples of leaders all around us. I have found that women possess a natural ability to network and connect with others. This is a relationship business, so women already have a great advantage in that regard.

Q. What do you consider best practices for developing and empowering women inside your corporate organization? Is this a purposeful target for you as a founder/executive?

A. It's important to make sure your company provides a level playing field for growth and progress for all your employees, and that, of course, includes women. This is something that needs to be visited and revisited regularly. And yes, it is very important to us because it makes for not only individual satisfaction in the workplace, but helps the entire organization move forward in dynamic ways because an employee who feels valued in their contribution will bring a lot of positive energy and talent to the table.
